University Professor, Recent Graduates, and Current Student Participating in Cincinnati Innovates

Cincinnati Innovates is an innovation competition that is open to anyone who has an innovation, idea, or invention and has a Greater Cincinnati connection. This competition is designed to showcase the technological, artistic, and ingenious innovations of all Cincinnatians - whether you are from Cincinnati originally or live or work in the Greater Cincinnati area (OH, IN, KY) now. All levels of technical expertise are welcome. The University of Cincinnati already has a professor, recent graduates of the University and winners of the MBA New Venture Plan Competition, and a student participating in the competition. Your innovation could be next!
