IV. Course Background and Rationale:

A capstone experience of some kind is a required component of the MBA degree and is a requirement of all Master’s degrees awarded by the University of Cincinnati. Historically, this requirement has been accomplished in several different ways. It has been satisfied with a master’s thesis, a comprehensive exam, a comprehensive case analysis, and a field case study. It has been satisfied as part of an existing course as well as in a standalone course. At this time, the capstone is to be satisfied by a business simulation and comprehensive final exam building upon previous coursework and implemented in this standalone course-BA 7012. It is important to note that there is no new content in this course. It is fundamentally an assignment that is given 2 credit hours for the student to complete. This is the reason for the listing of an “Evaluator” as opposed to an “instructor” for the course.

Because it is listed as a course, the Evaluator will issue a grade for the course based on their subjective evaluation of the quality of the work produced by an MBA student about to graduate. Because it is a capstone experience, it will also be evaluated by a second graduate faculty member of the Business College who will provide a simple assessment of “acceptable or unacceptable”. A student must receive an “acceptable” evaluation by both the Evaluator and this second reader to be certified for graduation. Refer to the grading criteria below for more information.

In all cases the purpose of the capstone is to provide each MBA student an opportunity to demonstrate their facility with applying the concepts and tools developed during the MBA program in an integrative experience. It is also the last opportunity for the faculty to assess the competence of its students for graduation. As a result, It is highly recommended that you do the very best you can on this assignment, as it represents your skill and competence in understanding and applying business concepts.
V. Course Materials

Required Materials:

All students must sign-up individually for the GlobalDNA package. This package will include two products: 1) Global DNA simulation, 2) CompXM final exam. The link for purchasing the simulation is as follows: http://www.capsim.com/globaldna/ and the unique Username and Password, plus the assigned team and industry ID for each student is provided in Blackboard under the Team/Industry ID link. The cost is about $69. Note: If your name is not included in the assignment list, it means you were not originally registered for the class, and you need to contact me to get registered. If this is the case for you, do not attempt to register before you contact me.

See the Simulation Instruction link in Blackboard for more complete instructions.

Optional Materials (Not required):

Some students may find the following paperback useful in helping refresh their knowledge of the business fundamentals in the context of this simulation. The link is as follows: http://www.amazon.com/Foundation-Hands--Introduction-Business-Fundamentals/dp/1508664102/ref=sr_1_1?ie=UTF8&qid=1462408230&sr=8-1&keywords=book+fundamentals+capsim

VI. Course Description:

This course is the capstone for your MBA program. Unlike prior capstones which required company and industry analyses, this term you will participate in a global simulation. The simulation will be completely individual. The simulation will test your ability to utilize and apply your knowledge of business fundamentals in a competitive environment.

GlobalDNA is a realistic, engaging, hands-on learning experience where students compete in international markets. As you gain insight into multinational operations, you will be challenged by differing market conditions and their influence on strategy. GlobalDNA allows students to apply what they have learned in the MBA curriculum, challenging their understanding of strategic thinking with tactical implementation.

The simulation and course will be implemented completely online. The final assignment is a self-reflection that will address several specific questions provided by the Evaluator. These questions and the required format will be available in Blackboard under the Self-Reflection Questions link.

VII. Student Learning Outcomes:

Upon successful completion of this course, the learner will be able to:

- Execute business strategy techniques within a global market environment that align with identified company goals.
- Integrate business functions in order to compete effectively across multiple, unique regional markets.
- Understand competitive positioning in a global market environment and demonstrate ability to effectively position products.
- Understand the strategic options for competing globally and the corporate motivations for entering international markets.
- Investigate the strategic complexities introduced by operating across national borders.
- Show understanding of regional currency and taxation issues and how they impact financial planning and decision making.
- Show the importance of aligning decision making across both corporate functions and international business units.
VIII. Course Communication:

University policy requires that the email set up in Blackboard is the primary means of communication. It is advisable that you use your UC email for this purpose and that you check it often. If you choose to change your email in Blackboard to a non-UC email it is your responsibility to ensure you check it frequently. Please see the attached Student Email Policy for more information:

http://www.uc.edu/content/dam/uc/infosec/docs/general/Policy_StudentEmail.pdf.

IX. Course and Grading Policies:

1. Course Structure: Changes to the syllabus, due dates, course requirements or grading requirements will be made as far in advance as possible. Due dates will be clearly marked in Blackboard. All assignments will be submitted via Blackboard using a PDF document or an Excel document.

2. Academic Integrity: As with all Lindner College of Business efforts, in this course you will be held to the highest ethical standards, critical to building character. Ensuring your integrity is vital and ultimately is your responsibility. To help ensure the alignments of incentives, the Lindner College of Business has implemented a “Two Strikes Policy” regarding Academic Integrity that supplements the UC Student Code of Conduct (see: http://www.uc.edu/conduct/Code_of_Conduct.html)
   - All academic programs at the Lindner College of Business use this “Two Strikes Policy”;
   - All cases of academic misconduct (e.g., copying other students assignments, failure to adequately cite or reference, cheating, plagiarism, falsification, etc.) will be formally reported by faculty; and
   - Students will be afforded due process for allegations as outlined in the policy.

3. Disability: Students with disabilities who need academic accommodations or other specialized services while attending the University of Cincinnati will receive reasonable accommodations to meet their individual needs as well as advocacy assistance on disability-related issues. Students requiring special accommodation must register with the Disability Services Office. http://www.uc.edu/aess/disability.html

4. LCB Weather Related Protocol:
   When inclement weather threatens the safety of the University of Cincinnati community, the Senior Vice President for Administration and Finance may invoke University Rule 3361: 10-55-01 and declare an emergency closing.

   The Lindner College of Business will observe the university emergency closing protocol for all on-campus classes. During a university emergency closing, all college offices will be closed.
Students should clarify with their course instructors how the closure will affect assignments and deadlines, and whether class information from the missed session(s) will be posted on Blackboard, and/or if the class will meet virtually during the closure.

In the event of inclement weather and the university is closed, the closure will not affect online courses such as this one. All course assignments and activities will remain as scheduled in the course syllabus.

5. Criteria for letter grades:
The capstone course has two grading components; a grade for the course and a Pass or Failure for the capstone requirement. A failure grade in the course and/or the capstone requirement will result in a student not passing the MBA capstone and will require repetition of the course until satisfactorily passing in order to be certified for graduation.

The course grade will be a function of the following elements:

- Overall Simulation performance (50%)
- Self Reflection (20%)
- CompXM Final Exam (30%)

The Capstone Pass/Fail will be assessed based on:

- Individual - Self Reflection (25%)
- Individual - CompXM Final Exam (75%)

The Graduate School grading scale will be used.

6. Course Policies:

- Late Assignments: Written assignments submitted late will be penalized a 10% grade reduction per day. Simulation decisions may not be submitted late.

- Problems?: Contact "ME" immediately if you have issues and/or questions about the course assignments.

- Course Structure: Changes to the syllabus, due dates, course requirements or grading requirements will be made as far in advance as possible. Due dates will be clearly marked in Blackboard. All assignments will be submitted via Blackboard using a PDF document or an Excel document.
X. Course Schedule:

The course is divided into two components: the Global DNA simulation and the final exam: Comp-XM. The simulation will comprise the majority of the course. It will be divided into two parts: Practice and Competition rounds. The practice rounds will give you an opportunity to learn how decisions are made, see the impact of those decisions and explore the sensitivity of the competitive environment to your decisions. Please use the Practice rounds wisely!

The Competition rounds will immerse you into an environment where you'll compete head-to-head with your classmates. Decisions are made on a weekly basis and results are posted within an hour. A full complement of reports will help you assess your competitive position in the market as well as your investors’ perception of your firm's performance. Metrics for firm success are based on your selection of metrics from a list of options provided by the simulation. (See the Simulation Instruction link in Blackboard for more information.)

The second portion of the course is the Final Exam. This exam will extend over a two week period. It will test each person's business competency with the business foundations. Students must pass the Final Exam to successfully complete the capstone.
