Corporate Finance

Every business requires skilled professionals to manage the many financial decisions that must be made. These ongoing decisions include capital budgeting allocations, determining strategies to raise and manage equity, long-term debt and working capital and investing the cash the business generates.

A graduate certificate in Corporate Finance will provide you with the skills and tools necessary to master these challenges.

Corporate Finance is one of more than a dozen graduate certificates offered by the University of Cincinnati Carl H. Lindner College of Business.
